

The hearX[®] process - Solutions for clinical trials

hearX aims to simplify hearing assessments in clinical trials, offering advanced portable hearing tests, customizable data management and exceptional service and support.

With a proven track record across diverse therapeutic areas, we can assist you with your participants' hearing safety, data accuracy and integrity, from setup to study completion.

Make us your trusted partner for hearing assessments in clinical trials.

Click the categories below to learn more about our service delivery process

